A SHORT POEM.

(Written especially for the Eagle)

Hurrah for the Eagle! that noble bird,
For peace and contentment, she is sure to be heard.
She sails over mountains, her voice clearly rings,
In telling the good news, of happenings and things.

She flies for a whole year, cost but a dollar,
But its worth twice as much for just one "holler."
She stands strong for the brave, the good and the true
And strikes at the right time, and knows what to do.

A friend to the children, a counselor tried,
She lives while some others have weakened and died.
A heart big as Letcher, beats fast in her breast,
When she goes to a home she takes peace and rest.

She loves every father, and mother so dear;
When your home is attacked, she fights without fear.
So, father, support her, and mother be brave,
Let it never be said, "she rests in her grave."

—G. F. DAVISSON.

COMMUNICATION OF INTEREST

Editor Eagle,

Your paper is now almost two years old and so far I have had nothing to say through its columns. I have kept my subscription paid and read almost every item in each issue so far. We are always glad to get the Eagle, in fact its almost a scramble in my family for who shall read it first. I don't know of any other way I could have spent the paltry sum of two dollars and gathered for myself and family the useful knowledge that we have gained through the Eagle. The various articles written by the good old mothers and fathers of our country and your editorials on home, the home influence, temperance, character, cigarette smoking, etc., if bound together would make a book worth much more than the price I have paid for the paper. I fear you will never know just how much good you are doing along these lines. But may God help you to realize the importance of turning your paper loose against the many evils that continually arise among us, and to realize the great influence for good it will have by so doing.

I wonder if we can not all think of ourselves for awhile and think of our own influence for good. I mean us fathers who have boys and girls to raise. Let's see if we haven't got a "mote" in our eye first, then see if we can't get it out before we try to get the mote out of the eyes of the young men of the country. What right have we to sell, give or procure for a boy cigarettes, or paper, or tobacco, whisky, etc.?

We all have our influence for good or evil, there is no such thing as a "stand-still," we are either doing good or we are doing evil. These things are evil and when we use them in the presence of the boys we are influencing them for evil. We have no moral right to procure these things for the boys of our neighbors, and I am going to say here that no man is my friend or a friend to my boy who will encourage him in these things or procure for him in any way any of these evils.

Such stuff is of the devil, and the man or woman who by their acts, words or deeds, encourages the youths of the country to drink, smoke, swear, etc., are agents of the devil and helping him to build up and establish his kingdom out of our boys and girls.

Do you want me to give your boy a cigarette or a drink of whisky, or do you want me to touch him on the shoulder, take him off to himself and tell him how bad these things are for him and what they lead to?

Parents, you may by your words, acts or deeds help to destroy my children, but I will never help to debauch or destroy yours.

Letters From Soldier Boys

Dear Editor.

I would like very much for you to put my name in your paper for the first time. I am a soldier and many miles away in the Philippines at Stotsenburg but will soon leave and go back to the States. The people here are mostly black and wild and live on fish and rice and fruit.

Dear Editor,

I am many miles away and my mind goes back to the past when I was in old Kentucky and where I spent many happy days. My home is on Linefork in Letcher. I am watching the soldiers as they go forth this morning to engage in a sham battle. There are 1,600 soldiers in camp at this place. Enclosed find a dollar, feed it to the bird.

LITTLE

Dear Editor,

I am a little girl six years old and love to hear papa read the Eagle. I am going to school and learning to read. Ben Brown is our teacher.

Alberta Frazier.

Dear Editor,

I will write a short letter to the Eagle. School has begun and I will try to go every day. I think all boys and girls should get an education and try to be something.

Alamander Whitaker.

Dear Editor,

As have never written before I take pleasure in doing so. I am a little girl 14 years old. I wish every little girl would write as I enjoy reading their letters so much. I have eight sisters and four brothers but one is with the angels in heaven.

Fannie Whitaker.

Dear Editor,

I write for the first time. I like school fine but don't go much as mother is sick and I have to stay home and work. I have a sister and brother to stay with me. I can hardly wait for the Eagle to come each week.

Maggie Jenkins.

Dear Editor,

Here I come again. Hope the cousins are having a fine time. Miss Lina Tolliver, come again, I like your letters. I am going to school all I can for last year my health failed and had to stay away. Let us all strive for more and better education.

Lina Kinser.

Dear Editor,

This being my first time will say a few words about education. First I must ask why are we so far behind in education? Some will blame teacher, others the patrons and the remainder the trustees. Now, who is in fault?

In order to stir the thing up I must say one reason is the patrons are mostly uneducated and take but little interest in sending their children to school. How many will agree with me on that?

As to the "educational whirlwind" that has just passed, it seems that our prominent citizens were all very much interested and I think the attendance this year will be 20 per cent. better.

Now, let's all place our shoulders to the wheel that turns slow but sure upward to success and do our utmost to press our way toward a higher education, for we all do believe and agree that we would be living in a more highly civilized country if we were all better educated.

Harrison Collier
Returns Home

Walsh, Greenup County, Ky. — Harrison Collier, son of Willis Collier, formerly of Letcher but now of this county, who was sent to the insane asylum at Lexington something over a year ago, returned to the home of his father on July 21. His friends were greatly shocked on recognizing the young man. He tells of his escape as follows: "I had been planning to get out of that awful hole for some time. On finding a certain guard away from his post I slipped into the elevator and up it and then out. I climbed a very high fence and from the top jumped and struck with a jar, then fled. I traveled two days without food and slept under the trees at night. Then I worked three days for a tobacco raiser and bought a ticket for Greenup. I am here strong and healthy and believe I am going to remain so." The young man appears to be in good health and talks and acts sane.

ON THE TEACHERS'
INSTITUTE

To write on the importance of teachers' institutes is very much to our liking. From a certain point in our life most of us at least look forward all the time, then at a certain age we look backward. A few years ago we looked forward to the coming of the teachers' institute, not because it gave us a week of rest and recreation from the arduous duties of the school room alone, but because it was there that the fires of knowledge would be added to and kindled afresh in our hearts. The rural teacher of our day, and to a certain extent the same is true now, had but few opportunities to mix and commingle with the world's flashing and scintillating lights. So, with us it was an intellectual feast. True, and I think most of the old teachers will agree with me, we sometimes had a difficult time drawing milk that could be digested and applied in our district schools from the dry and often far too ideal instructors sent among us. They were or seemed to be all over alive to their work, but to my mind now that work was altogether too superficial and too ideal. Apparently it is not so now, or at least the instructor, Prof. Noe, who has just left us, dealt more in the real than the ideal. I flatter myself to believe that there was not a teacher (and I mean those that are real teachers and not in name) who sat in this institute that was not fired with zeal for the great work in which he is engaged. My dear teacher, and I speak as one who still loves the cause, let me tell you there is no depth to your work, no middle ground on which you can stand for a moment, no limit to the circle of your influence, no end to the good you can accomplish. You have the moulding, ah, the shaping of the generations in your hands. What Letcher county will be ten years from now rests with you to an immeasurable extent to say. You must think of the magnitude of this responsibility, throw off your coat and wade into it, believing that God will bless your efforts, or throw down the gauntlet and quit. Over the hills come the swelling waves of progress and we must be able, with buckle and shield and helmet, to meet it. The unlearned and the unprepared will be swept from the country because they are not armed for the emergency. The only star of hope that blazes in our horizon is the star of education, backed by a strong religious sentiment, and when that star is allowed to set or its light becomes bedimmed with lack of interest as sure as you live away goes the hope of the mountains. Then it is that feudists reign, the perjurer and perjured, the briber and the bribed set in high places and innocent blood cries from the earth unrevenged. Then it is that the political buccaneer leads his subjects like lambs to the slaughter and the conditions become too awful to contemplate. Fellow teachers, parents and friends let us join hands in the war that is waging and see to it that our county leads the van in education.

NOTICE!

To the Good Citizens of Letcher County,

I realize the fact that it is hardly the proper thing for a man who is a candidate to enter denials to everything that may be alleged against him and especially by his enemies, but since becoming a candidate for Circuit Court Clerk I hear it whispered around that certain parties in case I am elected will share in the profits of the office or are promised positions under me. Now, I want to say and once forever that I have made concessions or promises to no man, either by word or hint, and so far as I know no friend of mine has been authorized to do so. In case the people give me this office I shall try to use it for my own personal benefit. In the meantime I ask the people to give me all the assistance possible and if elected I shall see to it in a personal way that you and your rights are fully protected.

Resp.,

Wilson C. Mullins,
Oven Fork, Ky.

Last week Mr. Alex Combs, of Smoot Creek, announced himself as a prospective candidate for Jailer of Letcher county but instead of the notice being signed Alex Combs the name of Alex. Ison appeared. Now our readers will readily see how it was the mistake occurred and will see as the notice now shows that Alex Combs is the man and not Alex. Ison. Mr. Combs is a son of Mrs. Cinda Akemon, or Combs, and is a well known and highly respected citizen. He will appreciate any favors shown him on August 14.

To the Citizens of Letcher Co.: I am a prospective candidate for Jailer of Letcher county to be voted for at the November election this year. Anything that the people of our county do for me will be highly appreciated.

EDITORIAL.

THOSE of our readers who may not read the big city weeklies or dailies perhaps would like to know that for the last few months considerable wrangling has been going on up at Washington City in the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives over the passage of what is known as a tariff bill. Most of you have either heard or read much in the past dozen years about Free Trade and Protection. Great national battles have time and again been fought out and thrashed over right along this line and almost every battle has resulted in an endorsement of protection to American industries. The old doctrine of Free Trade, once the favorite battle-cry of the Democrats, seems to have had its day, a newer doctrine, tariff for revenue only, having superseded it some years ago. Almost ever since the Dingley tariff bill was passed by Congress there has been a considerable demand by a large portion of our people for a reduction of these rates, and so a year or so ago a good sized movement spread across the country favoring what is known as Tariff Reform. Both the old parties became floundered and divided on the idea. Last fall at the National election, so far as appearances indicated, a Congress was chosen favoring tariff reform and a reduction of the old Dingley rates. Immediately after Congress assembled they went to work on a new tariff bill. At first it looked as if they were going to pass a bill, fathered by that faction of the Republican party known as "stand-patters" and that by some art or hocus-focus the rates would be decreased upward. Mr. Taft, knowing that reform of the tariff was one of his strongest battle-cries before his election, put on his spectacles and looked up the big column of figures and seeing the hand-writing on the wall attempted to and did call somewhat of a halt. This has evidently caused some delay in the passage of the bill but it is now almost completed. Whether it will suit the country is hard to forecast. It most probably will not, but it is more than likely that a settled condition of our financial affairs will result. Another thing about the bill is that it will not curb to any great extent the big monopolies that are fattening every year from off the brow of labor. It really seems to us that the monopolies have this country well nigh in their clutches and that the government itself is dangerously handicapped by them.

INSTITUTE NOTES

No Institute was ever held at Whitesburg in which more interest in the cause of education was aroused.

As will be seen in another column the teachers adopted a resolution indorsing the new school law along the line of taxation for high school purposes. This was not done by unanimous vote but it was by a very decided majority.

No one who attended the Institute met a warmer welcome than did our young friend, Prof. Lloyd Creech, of Union College, Barboursville. Prof. Creech is a nephew of Judge James P. Lewis and while not a native of our county many of his closest relatives live here.

Prof. James Thomas Cotton Noe, who conducted the Institute, as an all-round instructor has no equal in the State besides him. His poems and verse are the equal of anything in modern literature. Look out for his "Moonshine" in next week's Eagle. Its a gem rarely had.

The teachers will long remember the excellent talks and lectures given by Prof. G.D. Smith, of the Eastern Kentucky Normal at Richmond, during the Institute. His talks along natural science including an exhibition of botanical research, were especially strong and interesting. He made a great number of warm friends while here.

Provisions were made for holding Teachers' Associations in all the Educational Divisions of the county and good programs were submitted for each of the meetings. A prize of ten dollars is to be given to the division that shows the best attendance at the various meetings. Now, let the teachers and parents show how much interest they have.

Resolutions of Teachers' Institute

Resolved, That we owe to the people of Whitesburg a debt of gratitude for the hospitable manner in which they have entertained this body of teachers.

2, That our thanks are due to Prof. Noe for the able manner in which he has instructed this Institute.

3, That our thanks be extended to Prof. Smith for his splendid lectures on natural science.

5, That our thanks be further extended to Miss Lizzie Holcomb for making music for the Institute.

5, That our thanks are also due Eld. Davison for work done and interest taken in the Institute.

6, Whereas, many of the taxpayers of the county have entered a strong protest against that part of the new school law requiring a high school to be established and maintained at the county seat, and whereas, no law, however beneficial in itself, can work any great improvement unless heartily supported by the people. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the teachers of Letcher county, as a body and as individuals exert ourselves to bring about a hearty support of that law among the people.

THE STANDARD ROTARY

Shuttle Sewing Machine

is the best for general use because it will do more kinds of work, and do it better, quicker and more easily than any other machine made. It is the only machine that makes either the two-thread lock-stitch or the single-thread chain-stitch perfectly on the same machine.

It is the fastest sewer, making 175 stitches while others make 100. You can do your sewing in one-third less time. It runs decidedly easier and far more quiet than is possible with any other style shuttle. It requires only two movements of the treadle to three on other machines in sewing the same length seam; one-third less foot work. The Ideal Standard Rotary sewing mechanism and ball bearings make it wear twice as long as old style machines.

By greater usefulness, and universal satisfaction for 31 years, it has proven its superiority and supremacy.

The Standard Rotary will surprise and delight you. The artistic design and elegant finish will surely please you. See it TODAY. You are welcome, whether you buy or not.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS
Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

LOCALS

It still rains but corn is improving.

There were several people in town Monday.

Mathew C. Fields has gone to Bristol to buy goods for Ira Fields R Co.

Next Saturday is school election day in thirty-three school districts. Go out and select well qualified men for trustees.

F.M. Blair and posse went to Pine and Mill creek Monday and arrested some parties charged with selling illicit whisky.

Sam J. Patrick, of Salyerville, who had been here several days, left Tuesday for Hazard. He is employed in the Agricultural department of the State.

Next week we will publish some comments on our big Industrial Edition. Whatever you think about it, wait and see what the outside world says of it.

Eld. McKeehan, who assisted so much in organizing the First Baptist church here in the spring has returned and will conduct another series of meetings.

Remember Saturday, Aug. 14, is the day the mass meeting is to be held for the purpose of selecting an Independent ticket to be voted for in November.

On Aug. 16 Clay Bros. will begin a big clearance sale on Camp Branch. It'll be a good time to save some of those hard earned dollars. Anyhow, see their ad in this Eagle.

Merchant I. B. Fields and W. W. Sargent left Sunday for Bristol. Mr. Fields will buy goods while there. Mr. Blair, senior partner in the firm, is looking after the store.

Work on the new residence of Attorney Fields just beyond the bridge is progressing rapidly. Let others catch the building spirit and add to the beauty of our town.

Henry C. Dixon was the only one who took the examination for qualification to hold the office of County School Superintendent held here Saturday. There will be another examination the last of this month.

Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Fields left the first of the week for their new home at Poor Fork, Harlan county. Dr. Fields is an excellent citizen and while we regret to give him up we bespeak for him unlimited success in his new home.

Get ready right now to sow that wheat crop. Don't wait for others to start but start yourself. Remember that a big new threshing machine will be here in a few days and we venture the assertion that ere another season passes a good flouring mill will be in operation in our county.

Eld. Jonathan C. Day, of Indianapolis, arrived Friday on a visit to his many friends in this section. Mr. Day is one of the brightest young men that the mountains has produced. He is a minister of the Presbyterian church and will deliver several sermons while here.

In a short time 500 annual subscriptions to the Eagle will end and we enter upon our third year. A few have frittered along and have not paid their subscription but it is the other fellow and not you, surely. This bird might come across you some of these days and take you to be a rotten stick and pile you over into her last year's nest. Be a live stick and not a rotten one.

The apple crop is said to be considerably better than was expected. Apple orchards are loaded with fine fruit in various localities of the county.

There is no question but that truck gardens are poorer in this county than ever known. People could not in most instances cultivate them so the weeds just absolutely took possession.

You have not seen all the beauties you could until you make a visit to Fieldcliff Poultry Farm at this place. The proprietor will be glad to show you his fine specimens of the feathered tribes.

The health of the town and county is reported better than usual. There are but few cases of typhoid. A wave of summer colds caused by so much wet weather is about the only prevailing trouble.

The heavy rains in the last few weeks seems to have drowned out several of our correspondents. Will they please dust the cob-webs from their mental proclivities and shoot some more of their local news thisward.

A new postoffice is very badly needed along the line between Mandrake and Linefork. About twenty of our most valuable subscribers are entirely without mail accommodations and we hope the authorities will at once see the necessity of a postoffice along this route and have one established.

In the rush of the last two we failed to mention the fact that Andrew J. Sturgill, our County Court Clerk, is the Republican nominee for Representative in this the 97th Legislative district, being named at Hindman over a week ago. The Democrats will meet at this place toward the last of the month and name Mr. Sturgill's opponent. Several persons are talked of as candidates.

A number of inquiries have reached us as to the authorship of the poem, "An Ode to the Mountains," published on the first page of the Industrial Eagle and for the benefit of all we desire to say that the editor of the Eagle wrote and composed every word of it in about fifteen minutes. There are many grammatical and orthographical errors in the production. These will be corrected, the whole thing revised and re-published sometime in the future.

The big Industrial Eagle was most beautiful.

Sacramental services were held at Fairview Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Tolliver is ill at her home on Millstone.

Mr. and Mr. F. G. Stallard attended church at Fairview.

Sympathies are extended to the bereaved family in the loss of their beloved husband and father Uncle Arch Jenkins.

Resolutions on Death of Elijah Caudill.

To the Teachers and Friends of the late Elijah Caudill:

Whereas, it pleased the Great Teacher, in his all-wise wisdom, to remove sometime ago from our midst and from our loved profession our co-worker and friend, Elijah Caudill, and plant him in fields redolent with Paradise glory, be it

Resolved, that as a hard and faithful worker in the cause of education we miss him much. 2. That as an example of the moral and orderly walking man his presence and influence will be much missed, and

Whereas, the schools of Letcher county have lost one of their strongest supporters; and whereas, his friends have lost an earnest counsellor, his parents a faithful son and his children a loving father, be it further

Resolved, that the teachers of Letcher county, in Institute assembled, extend to them in their sad bereavement and desolate condition, their earnest and heartfelt sympathies. May the God of all grace strengthen them and enable them to remember that he has joined the Great School that will never break up, and the Master thereof is the Judge of all the earth.

We, your committee, would respectfully report the above. LITTLE WHITAKER, JAMES BACK, T. A. DIXON, Com.

J. S. PENDLETON, Supt.

Another Mistake

In the write-up of Hon. Robt. Blair in the Industrial Eagle a mistake in figures was made that would have it appear that Mr. Blair was elected County Attorney before he was admitted to the bar. This error was caused by us getting our dates mixed and we hope our readers will understand that it was not so. Mr. Blair was not elected County Attorney till several years after he had been practicing law.

Nervous Women

For nervous, tired women, we recommend Cardui. Cardui is a woman's medicine. It acts specifically on the female organs and has a tonic, building effect on the whole system. It contains no harmful ingredients, being a pure vegetable extract. If you suffer from some form of female trouble, get Cardui at once and give it a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes: "I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years. I am 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down pains, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good. I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.

NO DANGER OF JUNGLE FEVER

If Travelers in Africa Had Temperament Akin to That of Driver of London Cab.

Prof. Frederick Starr, the anthropologist, was discussing in Chicago the Roosevelt hunting trip.

"Mr. Roosevelt," he said, "will encounter very great dangers in the jungle. I don't mean the wild beasts; I mean the fevers. Mr. Roosevelt's is not the temperament to resist these dangers, either."

"His is a heady, rushing temperament; but the sort of temperament that keeps jungle fever off is like—like—"

"I once boarded a four-wheeler in Piccadilly," said Prof. Starr, "and I bade the driver drive to Claridge's."

"He drove at a snail's pace. Exasperated—for I was already late for luncheon—I put out my head and shouted:

"Look here, Cabby, we're not going to a funeral!"

"The cabby looked at me, took out his pipe and frowned."

"No," he said, "and we ain't goin' to no bloomin' fire, neither."—Los Angeles Times.

HOMESICK INDIANS DIE.

One of the most pathetic instances of homesickness is that of which the Modoc Indians are said to be the victims. After more than thirty years of waiting the Modocs, who because of their warring upon white settlers in Oregon, were exiled to Indian Territory and placed upon the Quapaw reservation, are hoping to be sent back to their native home. At that time there were 217 of the tribe and to-day they number only 49. Senator Curtis of Kansas, himself an Indian, in his plea for the return of the remnant of the tribe, gives it as his opinion that the mental anxiety brought about by their enforced separation from family and friends is the cause of this rapid decrease in their numbers.—Vogue.

BUT TIMES HAD CHANGED.

The weary hunters returned to the village in deep chagrin.

"You told us about the bears on the hills," blurted one of the nimrods, angrily.

"I surely did, bub," drawled the oldest inhabitant of the settlement. "See any?"

"Not a one."

"Not cats?"

"Not a trace of them."

The old man lit his pipe.

"Wall, that do beat everything," he remarked, dryly. "There was plenty of them that 69 years ago when I was a boy. Perhaps—"

But the disappointed hunters were making strides for the station.

HELP WANTED.

Geyer—I understand the coal barons are in favor of a higher duty on coal.

Myer—Because why?

Geyer—Owing to the mild winter they haven't been able to boost the price to the limit, so they think congress should help them out.

Myer—And will congress do it?

Geyer—Ask me something easy. One never knows what congress or a women will do.

IMITATING MAMMA.

Yeast—How's the baby?

Crimsonbeak—Fine. He's the greatest little imitator you ever saw.

"Talk yet?"

"No; doesn't say anything, but keeps his mouth going all the time."

"Just like mamma, I suppose?"

"Sure thing."—Yonkers Statesman.

STILL SERIOUS.

"I thought you expected Mr. M—here to-night," said he, looking over her guests. "Why didn't he come?"

"He sent me word he was marrying to-night," she answered.

"Why should he stay away for a small matter like that?" asked he.

"This is his third marriage, isn't it?"

A DEFINITION.

NOTICE!

Whitesburg, Ky., July 14.

To the Patrons of the Whitesburg school:

It gives me pleasure to inform you that I have been so fortunate as to employ Mr. E. B. Hale to assist me in this work. From a financial standpoint this is quite a sacrifice for me to make, but what I lose in salary I hope that your boys and girls will gain in moral and intellectual advancement. This additional help in the school costs you nothing, but it means much to your children, and I want to urge you to take advantage of the situation and to do your duty by having your children in school. Your child does the best work when he is in school the full twenty days of each month and I hope you will let nothing except sickness prevent him from attending full time. If circumstances are such that you cannot send to school every day, do the next best thing by sending every day you possibly can. We shall be glad to see you visit the school frequently—your presence incites us to better work. We need your encouragement and help. Will you not give us both? In conclusion, I wish to say to the public that we shall open a winter term at this place about Jan. 1, 1910, of which a more definite announcement will be made later. Hoping that we may have your support in our efforts to make this the best school in the history of Whitesburg, I am,

Very truly,
A. C. ADAMS, Principal.
